The Petersburg Symphony Orchestra, coming off a successful Cabaret event on Saturday, February 16, 2019, will perform a free concert on Saturday, March 2, 2019 at the Beacon Theater in Hopewell, Virginia. The concert, suitably named “A Beacon of Light”, will feature a variety of music from a diverse group of composers such as Johannes Brahms, Johann Strauss, Jr., John Phillip Sousa, Serge Prokofiev, Leonard Bernstein, and John Williams to name a few. For the past four years the Petersburg Symphony has thrilled the Beacon’s audiences with music that crosses many genres and this concert will be no different.

Though the concert is free and open to the public, you must have a ticket. Tickets may be obtained at the theater box office (401 N. Main Street, Hopewell, Va. 23860) Monday through Friday from 10:00 am to 5:00 pm.

Under the direction of Mr. Ulysses Kirksey, the Petersburg Symphony Orchestra, now in its forty first year, is committed to confirming a permanent cultural musical institution in the City of Petersburg, serving the Tri-Cities Area and surrounding counties for the expression of the talent of its members and for the enjoyment and inspiration of all who delight in participating in an exquisite performing arts experience.

For more information contact the Beacon Theater at 804-446-3457 or the Petersburg Symphony Orchestra office at 804-732-0999 or 804-931-7778.
